

I am opposed to lifting the ban on cell phone use on planes. The close proximity seating makes it virtually impossible to not overhear a conversation, especially since people tend to talk louder when on a cell phone. It will also inevitably lead to confrontations between passengers and flight crews when someone refuses to hang up the phone or becomes obnoxious. Please continue the ban.